PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

I declare under the penalty of perjury that the following statement is true and correct:

Furthermore, the complainant states that Juan GONZALEZ-Valdez, Jesus RODRIGUEZ-Monguia, and Angel Abraham SANCHEZ-Garcia are citizens of a country other than the United States; that said aliens have admitted that they are deportable; that their testimony is material, that it is impracticable to secure their attendance at the trial by subpoena; and they are material witnesses in relation to this criminal charge and should be held or admitted to bail pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 3144.

On May 2, 2008, Border Patrol Agent B. Lopez on the All Terrain Vehicle Unit (ATV's) was performing line watch duties, within the Imperial Beach Station area of operations. At approximately 2:05 A.M., Sector Dispatch informed Agent Lopez of a seismic intrusion device activation near an area commonly referred to as "West Smugglers". "West Smugglers is approximately three miles west of the San Ysidro, California Port of Entry and is directly adjacent to the United States/Mexico International Boundary fence and extending north approximately 500 yards. Shortly after the device activation, the National Guard Unit operating the Imperial Beach Station's Infrared Cameras observed a group of six persons riding bicycles moving north through the West Smugglers area.

The All Terrain Vehicle Unit (ATV's) responded to the seismic intrusion device activation and following directions given by the Inside Infrared Camera Operators moved to a position north of the bicycles. Upon arriving in the area north of West Smugglers, Agent Lopez observed that there was fresh bicycle sign on the ground indicating that the bicycles observed by the Scope Operator had already passed the ATV's position. Agent Lopez began following the bicycle sign and after approximately 30 yards the sign turned off the dirt road and into a nearby field where Agent Lopez discovered six bicycles strewn in the brush. From each of the bicycles a fresh set of footprints was discovered by Agent Lopez and he began following the sign north as it moved through the field. Agent Lopez informed other agents in the area of his observations, describing the footprints and advising the other agents to take northern positions and begin looking for those footprints described. Agent Lopez then got back on his ATV and returned to following the footprints. As Agent Lopez moved north he continued to inform the other agents in the changes of direction the group was taking and possible areas to where the northern agents could move to a position to intercept the group. Upon coming to an area known as "the 19th Street Dip" Agent Lopez observed that the group began to brush out their foot sign. Agent Lopez was able to observe small bits of sign missed by the brushing out that partially matched the original sign he was following. After approximately 50 yards of following the brush out, Agent Lopez observed that the attempt to brush out the sign had ceased and he was able to positively identify the original sign that he was following. The footprints led to the San Geronimo Horse Ranch and shortly after entering the ranch Agent Lopez discovered six individuals hiding among some stacked fencing material. A quick check revealed that their tread patterns on the shoes of the individuals matched the sign Agent Lopez had been following.

Agent Lopez identified himself as a U.S. Border Patrol Agent and questioned each of the individuals as to their citizenship and nationality. Each subject freely admitted to being a citizen and national of Mexico illegally present in the United States and none of the subjects possessed any Immigration documents that would allow them to legally enter or remain in the United States. Each subject was placed under arrest at 3:30 A.M. The six subjects, including one later identified as the defendant Humberto GONZALEZ-Hernandez, were then transported to the Imperial Beach Station for further processing.

This individual told the defendant that he needed to guide a group of undocumented aliens into the United States. "El Gallo" told the defendant to meet the group in an area known as "El Canon del Muerto." The defendant stated that he arrived in this area at approximately 9:00 pm and met the group of undocumented aliens. The defendant stated that there were approximately thirty individuals working for the "El Gallo" alien smuggling organization in the area. They grabbed six bicycles and passed them over the International Boundary Fence. The defendant stated that they prefer to use bikes because it takes them only 30 minutes to arrive at the pick spot as supposed to two hours if they travel on foot. GONZALEZ stated that the organization would buy the bikes anywhere in Tijuana for approximately $30.00 USD.

The defendant stated that this particular time, he was going to be paid $200.00 USD per smuggled alien. He stated that he has made five successful trips while guiding a group of six undocumented aliens each time. The defendant stated that every time he successfully smuggles an undocumented alien, he gets paid $200.00 USD on the third day. The defendant stated that he started smuggling for this organization approximately six months ago.
